It is the aim of this foundation to raise Australia's presence to not only step up, but lead the world when it comes to our relationship with animals and wildlife. Through leading the human animal relationship we can inspire the planet to live harmoniously, respectfully and in unity with all living beings.

For the Love of Wildlife believes education, reporting, collaborating with like minded organisations and holding those responsible for crimes against nature, is essential to change our world. We are focused and dedicated in raising awareness along with funding animal protection programs in ethical projects in Australia, New Zealand and Africa.

Humans have a responsibility to protect animals from exploitation, suffering or potential suffering whether due to acts imposed by humans or acts of nature, by advocating and/or intervening on their behalf and by enhancing their rights and well being wherever possible through compassionate action and ethical stewardship.

In collaboration with the Australian Government, it is our aim to work in securing regulations that assist in animal justice. Our initial focus to work to stop the importation of trophies into Australia, assisting in protecting species that are in critical decline. Those listed as Appendix 1, 2 and 3 as indicated by CITES.
